

Holidays and Pastimes (Looking Back)

Each title in this series examines the changes which have occurred in one particular aspect of 20th-century society, offering children an insight into the lives of their parents, grandparents and great-grandparents. This volume focuses on the ways in which people spend their leisure time and explores how these have been affected by changes in society, developments in technology and improved pay and working conditions. The topics covered include transport, radio, television and the music industry, and are supported by letters, quotations and other first-hand reports.
